It's time to break out the dancing shoes for an autumn of fun.

The Town of Truro Department of Parks, Recreation and Culture is once again hosting 10-week social dance courses for beginner, intermediate and advanced students, beginning Tuesday, Sept. 24.

Well-known instructors Wendy and Barrie Bent will lead the one-hour classes for adults each Tuesday from 7 to 8 p.m. for beginners and from 8 to 9 p.m. for intermediates. They will also offer an advanced class if there are enough students.

The cost is $75 per couple, including tax. Classes will take place in the gymnasium of Douglas Street Recreation Centre.

The Bents hold bronze and silver medallions in modern and Latin dancing. They will teach students to slow waltz, fox-trot, jive, cha-cha, Texas waltz, two-step, cotton eye Joe and more.

To register, call 893-6078. Participants are asked to bring water bottles and non-marking shoes.
