Boil Water Advisory

Truro – Due to apparent possible contamination of the Town of Truro public drinking water supply and the possibility of unsafe water, consumers are advised to boil all water for at least 1 minute before drinking, preparing infant formulas, preparing juices and ice cubes, washing fruits and vegetables, cooking, dental hygiene or any other activity requiring human consumption.

This is to be done until further notice.

The Truro water utility is doing all it can to determine the cause of the problem and to remedy it as quickly as possible. The Truro water utility, Nova Scotia Environment and Labour and the Medical Officer of Health are continuing to monitor the water quality closely and are working in close consultation.

Detailed instructions on water usage when a boil water advisory is in effect are available from the water utility or the local office of Nova Scotia Environment.
